ARTS FOR EVERYONE

2022 Green Box Arts Festival Schedule

Saturday, June 18 – Monday, July 4

GREEN MOUNTAIN FALLS, COLORADO

from the executive director

Welcome to the official schedule of the 2022 Green Box Arts Festival! Inside these pages, you'll find a plethora of opportunities to engage with us, whether it be for an afternoon, a weekend, or throughout the entirety of the festival. No matter your age, or your artistic interest, we are sure there are multiple events that will pique your curiosity – perhaps in ways that you have never explored before.

It all starts on Saturday, June 18 when we unveil four works of art, including our long-awaited Skyspace by James Turrell. With “ribbon-cuttings” throughout the day, we will celebrate early, with a champagne toast at 1 p.m. at our new Town Overlook on the Red Butte Recreation Area and keep the celebration going throughout the night with a free block party concert in the evening. And that's just part of what the first day of the festival holds!

So, get out a pen, mark your favorite events, and make plans to be part of our community. While this brochure offers a comprehensive look at all of our festival programming, for the most up-to-date information and tickets/registration, visit www.greenboxarts.org.

On behalf of all of us at Green Box, we look forward to having you join us in the mountains this summer to retreat in the tranquility of beautiful Green Mountain Falls, while feeding your soul with exquisite artistic experiences. We know you will leave feeling refreshed, re-energized and curious for more.

Sincerely,

Scott RC Levy, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Skyspace, by James Turrell ART THAT RESPONDS TO HUMANITY'S NEED FOR WONDER, SERENITY AND CONNECTION

Open daily during the Festival for sunrise, sunset & mid-day experiences. Registration: Free or $5, depending on showtime / Visit greenboxarts.org to register.

Green Box invites you to slow down, inhale the rarefied mountain air and experience something unexpected this summer. James Turrell's meditative work will bring together art and nature, family and friends, peace and joy, earth and sky, moon and stars.

Opening on June 18th, our Skyspace, the first in Colorado and the first in the world to be carved into the side of a mountain, begins with an inspirational journey from the center of town through the Red Butte Recreation Area, arriving at a transcendent destination. A one-of-a-kind kinetic light and color experience will shift your perception of nature and sky through contemporary light and space – an experiential work of art unlike anywhere else in the world.

Detailed information, including viewing times and reservations can be found at greenboxarts.org.

Iconic American artist James Turrell (born 1943) is known for cultivating peaceful and powerful environmental works of art that focus on human perception. His interest in the physical presence of light and space derives in part from his Quaker heritage. Turrell's autonomous Skyspaces may be understood as creative observatories – a combination of architecture, sculpture, and atmosphere perfectly positioned in nature.

Communication X9, previously on display on Chicago's Magnificent Mile, will make its Green Mountain Falls debut this summer at Mountain Road Corner.

Communication X9 by Yaacov Agam

MOUNTAIN ROAD CORNER

Communication X9 was created by Israeli artist Yaacov Agam in 1983 and is a beloved artwork that for decades was displayed on Chicago's prominent downtown destination, The Magnificent Mile. This summer, Green Box welcomes this diverse and colorful work to its new home at Mountain Road Corner in Green Mountain Falls. Standing at an impressive 43-foot tall, the stainless-steel tower changes appearance as you move around its three sides.

Yaacov Agam studied at the Bezalel Academy of Art in Jerusalem, and in Switzerland at the Eidgenössische Technische Hochschule and Zurich University. Agam has a museum dedicated to his artwork in his homeland of Israel, and had a retrospective exhibition in Paris at the Musée National d'Art Moderne in 1972 and also at the Guggenheim Museum in New York in 1980. His works are held in numerous museum collections including the Museum of Modern Art and the Mildred Lane Kemper Art Museum.

Visitors enjoying Lake Street's annual summer art display in 2019 of artist Jason Willaford's Begin with an Ending. This summer, a new work entitled Meltwater, by 2022 Green Box Artist-in-Residence Michael Krondl will be on display.

Meltwater by Michael Krondl

LAKE STREET DISPLAY

Green Box Artist-in-Residence Michael Krondl's site-specific 2-dimensional artwork appears as this season's Lake Street Display. The work is the result of a three step process that bridges the digital and the analog, the high-tech and the handmade. The source of the piece are photographs from our region, which have been digitally processed and rendered as a very large black-and-white, charcoal-on-paper drawing. The intent is for the piece to be "in conversation" with its surroundings, addressing our complex and increasingly precarious relationship to the natural world.

Michael Krondl is a Czech-born, New York-based installation artist. His multidisciplinary work uses photography, video, and drawings to investigate how we, as fragile human beings, interact and relate to the environment. He has exhibited his work and created large-scale installation pieces in Canada, the United States, Czech Republic, Germany, Netherlands, and Austria in private galleries, museums and other public spaces both indoors and out.

Faime Walking by contemporary artist Julian Opie is always a delightful encounter during one of Green Box's annual Art Walks

GREEN MOUNTAIN FALLS, CO

Join yoga instructor Andrea Lodico, co-instructor Marcus Berardino, and many new friends in a 6-day yoga retreat in our favorite mountain town! The retreat includes twice daily yoga practices at Bear Crossing Studio, locally-sourced meals, a visit to the Turrell Skyspace installation, hikes, conversation and relaxation in one of many lodging packages to meet anyone's needs. For local residents, there are a limited number of spots available to enjoy the benefits of this retreat without lodging. If you would like to learn more or register, please visit greenboxarts.org.

Lantern Making Design Station

Come into one of the studios at the Green Box Workshop any day during the festival and design your own water lantern that we will launch at the closing event of the festival on the 4th of July. A full kit will be provided along with various materials to help you embellish your work. You do not have to be in person on the 4th of July to have your lantern be part of the launch.

Audio Walking Tour: Art & History of Green Mountain Falls

Put on a pair of headphones and take your own walkabout tour exploring the art installations throughout Green Mountain Falls and the history of this beautiful place. Created by Green Box Artist-in-Residence Jessica Kahkoska, we look forward to visitors gleaning a new perspective on our natural and creative home. Information on accessing the tour will be available at the Green Box Office and on our website.

Green Box Recommends The Windmill Project by Patrick Marold

The Windmill Project is a monumental land art work by Colorado-based artist Patrick Marold, sited near the Ent Center for the Arts in the adjacent Pulpit Rock Open Space in Colorado Springs. Comprised of a grid of 2,000 8' tall posts, each topped with wind-activated anemometers turning small generators that power LED downlights, the site-responsive sculpture illuminates the wind's movement across the landscape by day, and thanks to its dark sky site, visualizes "a living body of light" after dark. The Windmill Project is part of UCCS Galleries of Contemporary Arts' Art WithOut Limits Public Sculpture program, curated by Daisy McGowan On view through October 2022.
